

desert mountains slow wrestle with summer clouds.
desert scrub on the sonoran floor and rocky foothills.
saguaro
opening its white blossoms in a nocturnal crown
that trades nectar for pollination formally closing in the midday sun.

bats
honeybees
doves
hummingbirds.

red fruit.
lizards
woodpeckers
wasps
owls
ants
nesting birds occupying the excavated chambers of its desert flesh.
i do not think there is a plan just accumulation.

accumulation.
wf.h.
2019