

how do we know there are monsters...
imagining them and then they arrive.
cleaning up after them when they are gone smelling the sweat while they are still there... or
when you realize you married one.

awakenings.
wf.h.
2019