

i look at the cuneiform clay tablets and understand they are counting something.
the guide tells me that it is civilization and about property and taxes.
i think he misses the point.

i look at the depths of the inscription and realize that it counts the hours until the scribes get off work.

closer analysis.
wf.h.
2019