

truth is rarely an orderly process... it stumbles into the room like a violent and drunken pagan with blood on his hands demanding vengeance and respect... you can tell right away whether or not this truth is real by its willingness to accept gold if it cannot get respect.

differentiation.
wf.h.
2019