

behind the ego antiquity walls and various states of standing towers of abstraction
of specific containment and ritual protections where the conscious organization of symbols continues to organize the self in our myth of being the chosen ones
separating us from the day to day
world of animals who do not have the personalized attention the personalized divine spark or the arts of personalized imagination we point to our inflation with the words civilized and civilization saying we live on a higher plane of spiritual dominion... then spring comes.

every year i am reminded.
