

i hear the summer crows cawing in the fields... and feeding.
it is almost like they are shouting their innocence louder than their crimes.
i think they may be onto something big like politicians kissing babies.

onto something.
wf.h.
2019