

does one leaf on the tree know about the other ones.

i hear

the good hearted mystics

the dark practitioners

the absolute believers

the whispering infidels

their heavenly hosts

their earth mothers

their sounds of existence

in a microscope lab

even the rakers of autumn

and agree with all

and each of them differently.

their placement

is an argument

about getting the sun.

rising as high as their

nutrients can climb

in layers of being...

but the essence is

they are not like vines.

one leaf.
