

one of my candles is in trouble but which is it...
is it the one about to go out.
is it the one being lit.

is the state of a thing its condition.

is the state of a thing its place in the condition.

i move my hand suddenly and what has been stirred.

i am told that i have separated the air

how do i know

well the curtain moved.

but what does it mean to know something

through something else.

the distance between what an object is

and what i am collapses.

anything can be said before

you are ready to know.

one of my candles is in trouble.
