

well short of knowing.... it seems reality is where you survive with the imagination and its impacts and the senses with their impacts.

what is real does not really matter.

it is what is done

with the world that is formed around it.

a better reality is a better survival in that world of this or that world of not this.

turn one god off and turn another one on... the mind lives in exaggerations with populations of monsters and angels fitting into words that try to say what a thing is.

the mind sheds its skin in dreams and cultural destruction.

one of us is standing in the middle of the day while someone else is standing in the middle of the night at the same exact moment of time not out of time.

does eternity have a calendar based on rotation or does it live in a larger cave living in imagination or does it share the cave living in both.

ideas of reality come and go

the best one is the one that lets me look forward to coming back

in whatever is tomorrow

when i go to sleep to wake up.

to say what a thing is.
