

to exist in a birth place
what would it mean to hold god if i did not hold you first.
what would it mean if god
was not there and i did not hold you first.
god would understand
presence
in emptiness
and no god would not notice that the emptiness had gone away.

if there is nothing
to accept grace then
let us do
even more
for that
will be the last all
of what is ours...

the soft features
in the eyes
of calm breath

and the hard strokes

of twisting fire

when things
came into our being.

what in departure matters more than our arrival.

what would it mean.
