

where can you go
when the darkness is so deep that angels die hitting their heads against the clean windowpanes of your house. where do you bury them.
how do you notify their loved ones or is the darkness
the darkness of your shadow and it is so profoundly dark that you just replace the broken panes as it gets darker hoping no one else notices why the windows seem so clean.

where can you go.
